"The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has narrowed its CCP virus testing recommendations to say that asymptomatic people no longer need to be tested for COVID-19….

"'You do not necessarily need a test unless you are a vulnerable individual or your health care provider or state or local public health officials recommend you take one,'" the CDC said Monday in its updated guidelines.

"People who have no symptoms of COVID-19 'do not necessarily need a test,' even if they have been in close contact (within 6 feet) with an individual who has tested positive for the virus for at least 15 minutes, the CDC now recommends.[1]

My son, fear thou the LORD and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change: For their calamity shall rise suddenly; and who knoweth the ruin of them both?

Proverbs 24:21-22
